Personal Information

Birth date: April 13, 1978
Birth place: Heusden-Zolder, Belgium
Citizenship: Belgian

Academic Positions

June 1, 2003 – September 30, 2006: PhD position at the Faculty of Psychology, Maastricht University, the Netherlands
October 1, 2006 – January 31, 2008: Post-doctoral fellow at the Faculty of Psychology, Maastricht University, the Netherlands
February 1, 2008 – July 31, 2008: Post-doctoral fellow at the Department of Cognitive Psychology, Ruhr-Universität Bochum, Germany
August 1, 2008 – September 30, 2008: Post-doctoral fellow at the Faculty of Psychology and Neuroscience, Maastricht University, the Netherlands
October 1, 2008 – present: Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Psychology and Neuroscience, Maastricht University, the Netherlands

Degrees

May 2003: MSc in Cognitive Psychology (Cum Laude), Maastricht University, the Netherlands
January 2007: PhD in Psychology, Maastricht University, the Netherlands; Dissertation entitled “Stressing Memories: Acute Stress, Cortisol, and Pseudo-memories”, supervised by prof. dr. H.L.G.J. Merckelbach and dr. M. Jelicic

2. RESEARCH ACTIVITIES

Research Interests

Primary: Psychoneuroendocrinology of Stress and Resilience; Neurobiology of Memory

Other: False memory; Eyewitness Memory; Suggestibility

Research Grants and Awards

(2009) Brain Asymmetry and Emotion Regulation as Markers of Stress Resilience. Economic Structure Enhancing Fund: €281.000 (2010 - 2014)

(2008) Turning a Negative into a Positive: The Role of Emotion Regulation and Brain Asymmetry in Resilience to Adverse Life Events. PhD student financed from the Department of Clinical Psychological Science, Faculty of Psychology and Neuroscience (Maastricht University; December 2009 - December 2013)

(2008) Thriving in the Face of Adversity: Psychophysiological Markers of Resilience and Their Association with Attachment. Netherlands Organisation for Scientific Research (NWO): VENI grant for innovative research: €208.000 (January 2009 - January 2012)

(2008) Young Investigator Award recipient at the 39th Annual International Society of Psychoneuroendocrinology (ISPNE) conference in Dresden, Germany: $600 USD (July 17-20, 2008)

(2007) Social Cognition Under Stress: Towards a Better Understanding of the Neuroendocrine Mechanisms Modulating Social Interactions. Netherlands Organisation for Scientific Research (NWO): Rubicon Fellowship: €13.750 (February 2008 - July 2008)

(2003) Student Award for Scientific Research performed at the Faculty of Psychology, Maastricht University: €500 (awarded by Stichting Wetenschapsbeoefening UM)

3. TEACHING ACTIVITIES

Teaching: Supervision of PhD students

L. Raymaekers (2007-2011)
T. Meyer (2009-present)
C.W.E.M. Quaedflieg (2010-present)

Teaching: Past Courses

Developing Course PL421/PL422 Eyewitnesses & Victims
Developing Elective Psychology & Law in a Nutshell 1 & 2
Unit Coordinator Course PL421/PL422 Eyewitnesses & Victims
Unit Coordinator Elective Psychology & Law in a Nutshell 1 & 2
Practical Coordinator 3.1.B.1 Reasoning & Decision Making In & Outside the Courtroom
Instructor in Course 1.4 Human Cognition
Instructor in Course 2.5.A Research: How To Do It
Instructor in Course 3.1.B.1 Reasoning & Decision Making In- and Outside the Courtroom
Instructor in Course Statistics 2.B Repeated Measures
Instructor in Course Statistics 3.B Factor Analysis & Logistic Regression
Instructor in Course 3.2.a.C Learning
Instructor in Elective Psychology & Law in a Nutshell 1 & 2
Instructor in Course PL421/PL422 Eyewitnesses & Victims
Instructor in Practical Research Master (Psychopathology)
Several Lectures (incl. lectures in Course 2.1, Research Master, etc.)
Teaching role in Research Master Course "Stress, Psychopathology, and the Brain"
Supervision of several BSc and MSc theses
Supervision of several research projects (Research Master students, Free Electives, etc.)

Teaching: Present courses
